

Arpit Khurana, a strategic management expert, a PhD from University Business School, Panjab University, Chandigarh and post graduated from renowned Narsee Monjee Institute of Management Studies, Bangalore

Authoring publications for national and international journals, he has established himself as an expert in Operations Management, Business Statistics & Research.

His research articles are well-regarded and widely published in National & International Journals

Not just an expert, but he is also known as a patient & skilled teacher, Arpit brings his experience of seven years to reach here, Helping his students to understand the subjects, and preparing them for a successful career while never compromising on the yield.